

“Turning the Church Inside Out” Conference

With Reggie McNeal
Tuesday, September 14th
Kansas City

We are planning a one-day conference with Dr. Reggie McNeal for Tuesday, September 14th in Kansas City. The conference will be a collaborative effort between the North American Mission Board, Kansas-Nebraska Convention of Southern Baptists, Missouri Baptist Convention, and three local associations in the Kansas City metropolitan area.

McNeal will lead three main sessions focused on helping church leaders understand the cultural shifts taking place in North America and the implications for the church on doing effective ministry. There will be special emphasis on the importance of developing and deploying church members as missionaries in local neighborhoods and work places. There will also be six breakout sessions offered that will assist participants in making personal application in their local context.
